in new taxes requested in January.

In a letter to the speaker of the house, Mr. Roosevelt held to his original budget figure for WPA with one major exception—he asked permission to spend the entire $975,000,000 in eight months if "necessary to avoid suffering and hardships." Last year's relief law requested that the WPA appropriation be spread over the entire 12-month fiscal period.

The president's remarks on taxes were made to a press conference, held just before his letter on relief was read to the house. In connection with the possibility of larger relief appropriations to cover the full year beginning July 1, Mr. Roosevelt was asked what mighthappen to the public debt which is nearing the $45,000,000,000 legal limit.

The president replied that connappen to the public dept which is nearing the $45,000,000,000 legal limit.

The president replied that congress might cut his budget estimates for 1941 by a couple of hundred million; that all appropriations voted this session would not necessarily be actually spent in the fiscal year, and that it was possible that tax receipts would be up perhaps $200,000,000 over estimates.

From a reduction in the budget, and higher revenues, he explained, an amount might be provided equal to the $460,000,000 asked in taxes.

No Additional Legislation

In response to another question,
Mr. Roosevelt, said he did not provide any additional legislation; would be recommended to congress this session. (Leaders have set June 1 as their adjournment goal.)

Mr. Toosevelt wrote the speak; or of the house that if the $275,000,000, scheduled for expenditure in the year beginning July 1, were spread over 12 months it would provide an average employment of only about 1.330,000.

Secretary of State Hull's warning (obviously directed to Japan) that the status quo of the Dutch East Indies must be respected, is a sharp reminder of the delicacy of the political situation in the Far East.

Blunt explanation of the anxiety for the safety of the Indies comes in the comment by authorities of the American, British and French fleets in Asiatic waters that there is "serious possibility" Japan may attempt to seize the East Indies if Germany occupies their mother country, Holland.

Mr. Hull's statement presumably was inspired by Japanese Foreign Minister Arita's declaration Monday that Japan would be deeply concerned over any change in the status of the East Indies.

Observers immediately thought they read between the lines a tendency to take a page from the Nazibook of wisdom as applied to the cocupations of Norway and Demark.

TRUE TO BILL OF RIGHTS

The talk of Attorney General Robert S. Jackson to 100 federal prosecutors of the nation, assembled at Washington, should interest all citizens. He said there was to be no lessening of the government's campaign against "subversive" activities in this country, but stressed the fact it was to be conducted strictly in the spirit and letter of the Bill

In enforcement of the national integrity, therefore, there must be no harassing of people holding meetings, petitioning Conor opinions. Only overt acts are to be prosecuted.

"Only by extreme care," he warned them, "can we ling a new world in which protect the spirit as well as the would take some unacted the letter of our civil liber-ceptable job or else create will be would take some unacted. prosecutor.'

If it is not the part of the established authorities to override anyone's civil liberties in defense of democracy, neither is it the privilege of private citizens, individually or collectively to spy upon or threaten those whose views they dislike. Breaking up some other groups meeting or refusing it a right to debate and criticize is very nearly to commit overt acts against the democracy we claim to be protecting.

Members of the National Grandmothers Club do not sit at home knitting, Sixty-seven of them have just been to Washington on a sightseeing trip. They "did" everything from the Wash' ington Monument to a parade of future admirals at Annapolis.

THE RESTLESS MAN THE RESTLESS MAN
"Tis he who cannot rest o' nights for thinking how and why.
To find the secrets of the world
'tis he who has to try.
And every time we walking go,
'tis certain sure he'll find
Some miracle the Lord has worked to end his peace of mind.

Some women marry easy men; the kind who stick to trade. They never ask and little care how butterflies are made. Some women marry laughing men who live to eat and drink, But I would pick a restless man who lies awake to think.

"Oh, why does God do this and that?" he often says to me. "And is the life of man the life of bird and blossoming tree. What is the meaning of it all? shall mortals ever know?"

I would be one to choose a man who keeps inquiring so.

Some women find the whistling men, the men from worries free. But I would draw the serious kind who wiser wants to be.
Yes, I would draw the thinking kind who frets a lifetime thought through,

Peace is not a cause, but a consequence. It is not a root, but a fruit. Before we can have peace we must have justice. righteousness, good will, honor and unself-ishness. These are all greater objectives than mere social tranquility. "The wisdom that cometh down from above is first pure, then peaceable," says Scripture. War-breeding conditions must change before wars will cease. The Bible is clear upon this point. Peace follows changed hearts, supremely loyal to God. The Christmas cherus promised "peace on earth among men of good will."

Here is the day's field for hardest, clearest thinking. We need to know what peace really is, and how it comes, before we can hope to achieve it. So long as national greed and selfishness persis; so long as advantage is put shead of simple right; so long as personal political and financial ambition is more potent than good will, just so long shall we continue to have wars. Disarmament treaties are powerless until the hearts of the people have been changed. We are on the road to peace when we deliberately, purposefully, tirelessly, selfishly, seek to establish justice in the earth. The accepted sovereignty of God, and nothing less, with men walking in His ways, will bring peace to pass.

One hopeful sign on the day's horizon is that so many persons are thinking long, long thoughts about the world's future, and about the sort of peace and social order that will follow this awesome war. My friend and confrere, Clarence K. Streit, has set the press of the whole world to discussing his project of "Union Now," as set forth in his book of that title. Highly placed statesmen, like Secretary Hull, are bending their best energies to preparation for world peace. Coincides With Wishes Japan. TOKYO, April 18.—(P)—Secretary Hull's statement opposing TORYO, April 18.—(P)—secret rary Hull's statement opposing any change in the status of the Netherlands East Indies was greeted by Japan today as coinciding with Japan's own wishes. A report on the Americon statement was made to the privy council by Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita who focused world attention on the rich Netherlands possession last Monday by a decilaration that Japan would be coned deeply over any change in the East Indies' stutus.

"Japan hopes to prevent the spread of European war to the Pacific and the step was taken in accordance with this wish." Suma said the Hull and Arita statements coincided.

It was asserted Arita intended his words to clarify Japan's position in advance of any European development which might come swithy in modern warfare. Commander T. Kanoe, acting as spokesman for the Japanese navy, compared Japanese interests in the Indies with the United Sates' interest in Greenland. He said, however, that Japan's interest was "much more vital" and that "development of the natural resources of the East Indies with the United Sates' interest in Greenland. peared to be threatening to burst its borders again—this time to the southeast.

Balkan Situation

Throughout the Balkans little nations asked themselves whether the time was coming for Italy to enter the war or Germany's side and whether Germany might not be planning a new thrust, this time in their direction.

Britain herself showed an unusually open interest in Italy's plans as Economic Warfare Minister R. H. Cross hinted to Rome that she ought to watch her step and that, if she wished to be treated as a neutral, she had better "behave as one."

This warning was sent out as doubts concerning Premier Mussolini's intentions were raised by the increasingly pro-German attitude of the Italian press and rumors of new Italian military measures. The Italian government, however, denied reports that the Adriatic port of Bari had been made a prohibited zone.

Hungary, Rumania and Yugoslavia, apparently cooling in their dependence upon Italy to help them keep the war out of the Balkans, were reported trying to win Russia's help to maintain peace in their backyards on the theory that Russia is opposed to any German advance in this direction.

The concern over the Netherlands East Indies arose as the United States navy renewed its advocacy of a major air and submarine base at Kuam, tiny American outpost 1,500 miles from Tokyo—a project which in the past has been regarded by Japanese militarists as an "unfriendly" gesture.

Allies Preparing
While British and French armed forces in the Orient were preparing for any eventuality, including the possibility of a Japanese attempt to selze the Netherlands East Indies in the event of a German in Oslo, fallen capital of Norway, strong German reinforcements of all kinds moved in to protect the nazi position. Coast defense were strengthened with 11-inch guns.

The Germans apparently were careful to stay well west of the Swedish frontier as they moved isouthward to avoid the danger of inadvertently crossing the border and being interned.
